Thinking OF HIM

Husband, father, brother or son (but also the bosom friend is fine) ... Simple or luxury suggestions to make him feel at the top.

Under the pine tree, a refined atmosphere is waiting for him. It will be nice making him discover again the taste of something classic, the tartan. Revised, however: there are also the stereo headphones for the hipster son. But it would also be nice to let him become a child again, at least in the most magic night (will a musical teddy-bear be able to make him smile?) And give him more than a hint to plan a holiday at high altitude (the “polar” parka for example). What are you saying, is e a “city-dweller”? Wrap for him the craft made bike, the gourmand vinegar, the audio book he can listen to while driving.
