

PANORAMA

Italian talent tarallo trend

There was Giuseppe De Martino, who from Harrod's sells his pasta with the Dolce e Gabbana packaging, and, among the others, Antonella Nonino with her grappa. But the Italian Talent Award presided by Carla Cioffi, besides the excellences of food and design, at the House of Representatives, with the jury directed by Giancarlo Mazzucca, awarded also those of journalism, with the directors of the Corriere della Sera and of Grazia Luciano Fontana and Silvia Grilli. Later all took part in a tasting in Via Veneto: where Sandra Mastella stood out with the desk of the taralli of her company. (A.P.)

Pictures: Sandra Mastella Between The Creators Of The Award, Sandra Cioffi (Right) And Stefania Giacomini. Below: the prizewinners.